Call for submissions
kerb@ems.rmit.edu.au

‘Landscape is also used to represent and understand the dynamic systems of the city, and is increasingly perceived as the significant medium for citymaking.’

Kerb magazine, invites you to contribute to the fifteenth edition. Kerb is a not for profit RMIT publication compiled by undergraduates of the Landscape Architecture program. We are inviting students, academics and artists to discuss, critique and demonstrate a way of re-imagining and re-framing the future city.

We are seeking submissions of experimental and innovative design projects, critiques, research, written and photographic submissions, digital animations or film.

Your submission should be emailed to the Kerb editorial team at kerb@ems.rmit.edu.au or sent by post to RMIT School of Architecture + Design, Landscape Architecture, PO Box 2475V, Melbourne VIC 3001, Australia.

Full submissions between 500 and 2,500 words must be received by 22 September 2006 or abstracts can be submitted up until 25 August 2006.

Images must be tiff format at 300 dpi.

For more information contact the Kerb editorial team at kerb@ems.rmit.edu.au