RMIT UNIVERSITY RESEARCH SEMINARS
Enhance - Educate - Develop

SCHOOL OF
PROPERTY, CONSTRUCTION AND PROJECT MANAGEMENT

RMIT University has a strong record of excellence and innovation in research and industry engagement. The School of Property, Construction and Project Management (PCPM) is hosting a series of free “Research Lunch Seminars” on innovative research techniques. The Wednesday lunchtime seminars start on Wednesday July 20 (Week 01 of Semester) and will run on a weekly basis from 12:30pm to 1:30pm. The seminars will be at RMIT Building 8 (360 Swanston Street) Level 8, Room 13 (conference room). Sandwiches will be provided.

The PCPM research seminars have been structured around “research methods” with the application to conducting applied research. The series will cover a number of methods (qualitative and quantitative) applied to data collection and data analyses in PCPM related disciplines.

Research Seminars: Semester 2, 2011
20/07/11 Guillermo Aranda-Mena: The Repertory Grid Technique
27/07/11 Jin Woo: Post Occupancy Evaluation Technique
03/08/11 Geoff Outhred: The Delphi Technique
10/08/11 Tayyab Maqsood and Malik Khalfan: Soft System Methodology
17/08/11 Tracy Cooke: Social Networks
24/08/11 Michelle Turner: The "Q" Methodology
07/09/11 John Garimort: Valuation Methods of Infrastructure
14/09/11 David Higgins: Analysing Property Fund Data
21/09/11 Peter Wong: Multivariate Data Analysis
28/09/11 Frank Boukamp: Design Communication Ontologies

The PCPM research seminars provide an excellent forum for the School and industry to share knowledge on research techniques. The application to projects and the implications for the wider community will be discussed.

RICS members and industry are invited to these seminars. For catering purposes, please email Elima Finlay elimafinlay@rmit.edu.au by the Monday before the seminar if you would like to attend.

For RICS members, the seminars have been granted CPD status.
