This form is to be used when applying for special consideration in exams, tests or lab based assessments, or presentations. It is also to be used when applying for an extension of more than seven calendar days from the original due date for submission of assignments, projects, folios or essays.

Eligibility
Students may apply for special consideration on a range of medical, non-medical or compassionate grounds where they experience unexpected circumstances outside their control that have had a significant adverse impact which:

(a) prevented them from submitting assessable task/s; or
(b) prevented them from attending an examination/test; or
(c) substantially affected their performance in the above.

Special consideration is not intended to cover long-term physical or mental health conditions or disabilities. The application must clearly demonstrate that it meets the eligibility criteria as identified in section 4 of the Assessment: adjustments to assessment procedure at www.rmit.edu.au/students/specialconsideration. The granting of special consideration is not automatic but is decided on the basis of your application and the evidence supplied.

Note: Holidays and misreading the exam timetable are not grounds for special consideration.
Grading consideration is not an outcome of special consideration.

This process does NOT apply to:
(a) students seeking an extension of seven calendar days or less from the original submission due date to submit assessment tasks. A separate Application for extension of time for submission of assessable work form (available from www.rmit.edu.au/students/forms) must be completed. These applications must be lodged with the school that offers the course no later than one working day before the assessment deadline.
(b) students seeking future assessment adjustment/s (FAA) in relation to future non-medical circumstances. A separate Application for future assessment adjustment form (available from www.rmit.edu.au/students/forms) must be completed and lodged four weeks before the scheduled assessment/s.
(c) research students’ thesis courses. Higher degree by research students should contact their supervisor to discuss support.

INSTRUCTIONS
Lodgement options
Applications must be lodged no later than two working days after the due date of the earliest examination or assessment for which you are seeking special consideration.

If you are unable to obtain your supporting documentation by this deadline you must still lodge your application but include a statement advising that your supporting documentation will follow. You have a maximum of five working days from the date the application was lodged to submit your supporting documentation.

An application may be lodged:
- online at www.rmit.edu.au/students/specialconsideration
- at the Hub (or local administration office for offshore students)
- via email to special.consideration@rmit.edu.au
- via facsimile to +61 3 9925 8845
- via post to Special Consideration, Academic Registrar’s Group, RMIT University, GPO Box 2476, Melbourne Vic 3001

Please do not complete a new application form when submitting supporting documentation. Attach a sheet to your supporting documentation listing your original application number; your student number, date of birth, family and given names when lodging by one of the methods listed. Please retain a copy of your application and supporting documentation.

Resit of assessments: Please note that if you apply to resit an assessment, no mark will be recorded for the first assessment: you will have to sit a deferred assessment to gain a mark and avoid a 0 fail mark for that assessment.

Applicants for special examination seating arrangements must contact the Disability Liaison Unit (see www.rmit.edu.au/disability) to seek an equitable assessment arrangement at least four weeks before the assessment.

Completing this form
When using this form, please ensure you complete the following:
1. Provide complete details for each assessment in a course for which you seek special consideration (Section A).
2. Provide detailed reasons for your grounds for special consideration (Section B).
   Supporting documentation – An application for special consideration must be accompanied by independent substantiating documentation written in English or accompanied by an accredited translation. If you are applying on medical/psychological grounds, you must ensure that the Impact assessment statement section of this form (page 4) is completed by an independent, qualified practitioner who is treating the condition.
3. Sign and date the student declaration (Section C).

Your notification of application outcome will be sent within 10 working days via your RMIT student email account. It is your responsibility to check that account regularly and to ensure that it is able to receive mail.

Extensions of more than seven calendar days from the original due date for submittable work (e.g. assignments, projects, etc.): It is expected that you will continue to progress that work and submit it as soon as possible while your application is under consideration.

Late applications will only be considered in exceptional circumstances. Such applications must contain a detailed explanation of the reasons for being late, supported by documentary evidence of these reasons and must be submitted with your online application or application form.

Impact assessment statement – for a special consideration application on health/medical grounds

Note: This impact assessment statement (IAS) is the best way to establish medical/health grounds for a special consideration application. A standard medical certificate can also be accepted if it states the dates and nature of the impact. This IAS must be completed by the registered medical/health practitioner who treated you for the condition. You may also include other documentation such as a letter from the practitioner.

I agree to RMIT University contacting my medical/health practitioner as necessary to clarify the information provided below.
