Recognition of current competency (RCC) applies only if an applicant ‘has previously successfully completed the requirements for a unit of competency or module and is now required to be reassessed to ensure that competence is being maintained. In this case no extra skill or competencies are nationally recognised’. (NCVER AVETMISS Data Elements definitions 2006.)

RCC may be required for licensing purposes, such as those in the electrical or plumbing trades. If you have been told by your employer that you need to be reassessed for licensing purposes then you would apply for RCC.

RCC may also apply for other units of competency, for example Occupational Health and Safety units and First Aid where skill requirements are regularly updated. In all other cases you should be applying for recognition of prior learning (RPL). If in doubt, contact the relevant RMIT school for advice.

RCC fees
Applicants for RCC assessments are not eligible for government funding. Applicants seeking RCC should approach the relevant RMIT school for advice on fees.

If you need help completing any part of this application, please contact your school.
