Are you interested in spending a year studying Japanese and Asian Studies in Kyoto, Japan?

RYUKOKU UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIPS AVAILABLE NOW:

Studying at the oldest Buddhist University in Japan can be a life-changing experience. The increased globalization of information and economics make knowledge and experience of a different culture essential for all students.

Ryukoku University is one of the leading private universities in Japan. It has two campuses in Kyoto with 15,000 students, eight faculties, several research institutes and centres. The Faculty of Intercultural Communication (FIC) was established in 1996 at the Seta campus, close to the historical city of Kyoto.

- The Japanese and Asian Studies (JAS) Program offers students with little or no Japanese language skills a unique opportunity to study Japanese and Asian culture, including Buddhism and other Asian religions, Japanese literature, theatre, society, economics and politics.
  > For more information, visit: http://www.world.ryukoku.ac.jp/jas_web/index.html

- The Japanese Culture and Language Program (JCLP) is a one-year intensive course, centered on the Japanese language and a variety of Japanese affairs subjects. It is ideal for students with an interest in Japanese language and culture, or those preparing for entry into a Japanese university.
  > For more information, visit: http://intl.ryukoku.ac.jp/english/html/jclp_01.html

Scholarship Available Now:
Generous scholarships are now available to RMIT undergraduate students who are in the second year or above of their program and have completed at least a semester of Japanese language study.

> Scholarship Tenure: September 2007 - June 2008
> Application Due: 23 April 2007

For more information contact:

Barbara White
Program Co-ordinator,
Japanese Language Programs
barbara.white@rmit.edu.au

Angela Henry
Education Abroad Advisor, Education Abroad Unit
angela.henry@rmit.edu.au