How many contact and self-directed hours study per week?
You will undertake four 12-credit point courses or the equivalent each semester. Full-time students are expected to attend 12 hours of classes and undertake approximately 36 hours of extra study and research weekly. There are often concentrated periods of out-of-class work when assessments are due.

Are evening classes available?
No. All classes are scheduled from Monday to Friday between 8.30 am and 5.30 pm.

How many students are in a class?
There are large lectures. First year tutorials have about 25 students in a class.

Is there a work placement?
In the second semester of the third and fourth years, you’ll undertake two 70-day placements, usually within human and community service organisations. The third year placement focuses on direct practice with individuals, families and small groups. The fourth year placement involves the integration of theory and macro-level practice. Placements may be arranged locally with some opportunity for placements interstate or overseas.

Can I study overseas?
Exchange agreements – you can go on exchange for a semester to a partner institution (e.g. in New Zealand, Canada, Chile).
Study tours – you can go on a study tour organised by the School of Global, Urban and Social Studies (e.g. Thai/Burma border, Philippines study tour).
Field education – you can undertake your second work placement abroad (e.g. in India, Philippines, Ethiopia)

Will I require extra materials and how much do they cost?
Reading kits are available if you choose to purchase from the RMIT Bookshop.
In addition to tuition fees, you will be charged a student services and amenities fee (SSAF).

Do I need my own computer or any other special equipment or software?
A computer is advantageous, but is not a requirement, as students have access to computer labs with the relevant software.

Can I defer my place?
It is RMIT policy that all students are able to defer their studies for a maximum of 12 months. Six month deferment may be possible if places are available at mid-year.

What are the entrance requirements?
ATAR: 2014 = 80.70 2013 = 80.45
