Which social justice career suits you?

You have excellent people skills. You are approachable, good natured and responsive to people's needs.

- Yes
- No

Word around town is that you are honest, fair and ethical.

- Yes
- No

Perhaps you should consider a career in accounting.

- Yes
- No

You are flexible, resourceful and resilient. Working with a shoestring budget is your favourite past time.

- Yes
- No

“Work with whatever tools you may have at your command, and better tools will be found as you go along.” - George Herbert

- Yes
- No

When a door closes a window opens.

- Yes
- No

Barriers shmarriers. You are the building block of strong intercultural relationships.

- Yes
- No

You are the Zen Master. You are always practical, patient and realistic.

- Yes
- No

You are up to date with politics.

- Yes
- No

You are King or Queen of problem solving!

- Yes
- No

You strive to be the voice of marginalised communities, advocating for social and political change on their behalf.

- Yes
- No

When a door closes a window opens.

- Yes
- No

You are interested in working within the justice and legal system.

- Yes
- No

Do you enjoy reading books in another language?

- Yes
- No

Public Policy
Contribute to positive policy outcomes and be prepared for leading roles at all levels of government and human services organisations.

- Yes
- No

Social Work
Learn to address structural inequalities and injustice in peoples lives, through the active pursuit of social change.

- Yes
- No

Justice and Criminology
Lead debate and shape the application of criminal justice in Australia.

- Yes
- No

International Development
Bring issues of the developing world to the global stage.

- Yes
- No

Translating and Interpreting
Be the crucial link between people of culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds.

- Yes
- No

RMIT University advises that info-graphics are not to replace professional career counselling.