Selecting Courses

You can design your own program by selecting courses from any of RMIT's disciplines as long as you have the equivalent prerequisites, from your home university.

RMIT offers diplomas, undergraduate and postgraduate degrees. Associate Diploma programs are best suited to students from community colleges, vocational or technical institutions.

Undergraduate and postgraduate courses

The usual full-time load per semester for a degree program is 36 to 48 credit points (equivalent to three or four courses). Students must undertake a minimum of 36 credit points and not exceed 48 credit points (equivalent to 30 ECTS or 12 North American Credits – check your home institution credit conversion). Dropping below 36 credit points constitutes a breach of your student visa.

When selecting courses:

- Choose up to six courses on the application form in case some are not available
- Ensure the selected courses are available in your preferred semester and campus
- All selected courses must be taught at the same campus (RMIT has three campuses in Melbourne).
- Refer to the 'How to Search for Courses' section and recommended course list on our website <http://www.rmit.edu.au/study-with-us/international-students/programs-for-international-students/study-abroad-and-exchange/student-exchange/how-to-search-for-your-courses>
