Statement of Student Responsibilities

RMIT encourages you to participate fully as an independent and active learner throughout your university studies. As part of this participation you will assume responsibility for the choices you make in relation to your program of study. Your program of study is recorded on the university academic system and you are required to adhere to the academic advice and program structure with which you have been provided.

"By enrolling as an RMIT University student I agree and understand that:

1. To have a valid enrolment at RMIT University I must comply with:
 - University regulations and policies (available at www.rmit.edu.au);
 - Relevant Commonwealth and State legislation; and,
 - All published requirements relating to my program.
2. I must also ensure that the information I provide at enrolment is accurate, particularly my mailing address, so that I do not miss important information relating to my studies.
3. If I make an error during the enrolment process it is my responsibility to ensure that I correct it immediately.
4. I must follow the program and course enrolment details provided in my enrolment pack to ensure that:
 - I stay within my approved program structure; and,
 - I maintain the appropriate study load.
5. When selecting courses, I need to be aware of any pre-requisites or required knowledge relating to those courses outlined in the program and course details provided in my enrolment pack or provided during academic advice sessions and / or appointments.
6. I must comply with any specific directions from my school regarding academic progress.
7. I have read the official Course Guides (available at www.rmit.edu.au) to ensure that I am eligible to enrol in my selected courses.
8. I authorise RMIT to obtain details of my past results from other educational institutions and professional bodies.
9. Where applicable I authorise RMIT to release my trade enrolment academic records to the apprentice authorities and to my employer.
10. RMIT University may reproduce, communicate, compare and archive my assessments for the purpose of detecting plagiarism.

I acknowledge that RMIT University reserves the right to cancel or amend my enrolment if I do not adhere to the requirements listed in this statement.”
